INSURRECTION NOW RAGING IN ALBANIA

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY. Italy, under the rule of the house of European nation is more pro foundly interested in the insur foundly interested in the insurrection now raging in Albania against the Turks than Italy, where so many of the leading statesmen of the nineteenth century, first and foremost, Francesco Crispi, have been of Albanian descent. In fact, old Garibaldi used to say that the cause of Albania was the cause of Italy. Taking advantage of this, his son, Ricciotti Garibaldi, has repeatedly offered to assume the leadership of a band of Italian fillbusters, for service against the Ottoman troops in Albania, and when asked why he did not proceed to the front to take command of the Italians already fighting under the rebel flag, and why he did not place his sword at the disposal of the Albanian insurgents, intimated that he would not proceed to Albania until "certain necessary financial arrangements were made."
